POSTSCRIPT

(Montreal Herald.)

So things are not what they seem, after all. Hon. Mr. Tarle has just been telling the local manufacturers' Association that his disappearance from the Laurier Cabinet had nothing to do with the tariff issue. This is hardly fair on Mr. Tarle's part. He ought to have the facts straight, and he probably did not know at the time he was going on a tour of the country. It is difficult to imagine him to be the victim of a big hoax. Now we know the whole story about the occurrence; how Mr. Tarle was taken up the lakes on the Government steam launch; how at every harbor delegation welcomed him, informing him as to the needs of the particular harbor in which his ship dropped anchor; suddenly he began to talk about high protection, and about his representations of the offence. Liberal Journalists took him to task; now he accepted invitations poured upon him by high protectionist bodies, making himself always the champion of high protectionism.

Now he has dramatically decided upon a series of factories throughout which he was shown by the engineers to be the best in the world. He has been received by every man of influence in the country, and by every man of influence in the world. The St. Lawrence river is to be the site of the new industrial center.

One minister after another has devoted himself to improving the usefulness of the St. Lawrence channel, and year by year the West has outgrown the railway facilities at its disposal. While the St. Lawrence in the cabinet might still be a great deal more than a river, the high protectionists did have the one hour of fleeting hope that Mr. Tarle's movement afforded them; but now even they are to be undersold, to be given to understand that he whom they thought they could buy, could not buy them, leaving them to help play his own game, a game of which they knew nothing then, and know little now, but which was not by long odds the game they thought they were playing. How very comforting, it must be to them, this explanation which does not explain.

Telephone numbers requested for the phones for the purpose of enquiry when a fire alarm is given. The operators are instructed to communicate freely with all parties who may be concerned or whose property may be endangered for the efficient control of a fire. It is recommended that one of the operators at least should be entirely free at such times to give connection with the fire hall that no time may be lost in getting apparatus and men on the spot or for conveying such directions as may be necessary.

By order,
GEO. J. KINNAIRD,
Secretary-Treasurer.

Improvements on Alberta Lines to Accommodate the Increased Business

(Calgary Herald)

6. A new station at Cayley, a Y-shaped town in Alberta from which more cattle are shipped in a twelve-month period.

7. A new station at Leavings, and large addition to the yards, 2,300 feet will be built on one track.

8. Three thousand feet of new side track at Ardrie, the raising of the junction and a new platform.

9. Extension of yards at Crossfield.

The bridge work on the Alberta lines is undergoing many alterations this year. A heavier bridge is being installed at Medicine Hat by the Locomotive Machin company, of Montreal.

The span is over 900 feet, and the work is being done in time for the completion.

A new steel bridge across the river at the Twin bridges, and a renewal of the bridges between Glencoe and Revelstoke complete the plans for the present. The company's men, to the number of 1,000, H. H. Flett, are engaged with Beaver steel, the bridge at the Elbow River.

The span is 164 feet and the work is to be completed in three weeks. For the purpose of handling the massive beams, Mr. Flett has one of the largest derrick cars in America. It propels itself at 10 miles per hour, and is capable of putting a 100-ton girder in position. In addition to this new work, 12 men are employed constantly between Medicine Hat and Laggan to keep the trestles in careful repair.

THE "HARD WORK" ALONG THE C. P. R. LINES

The Roman Catholic Church has been impeded by the inactivity of the Canadian Pacific Railway in presenting the claims of the Indians in Alberta.

The agent to whom the Church is prepared to go to the Canadian Pacific Railway has been advised that the agent of Mr. F. W. G. Hart, South Qu'Appelle, has been arrested. All along it was one of the most active in the Political Rights side, and no special effort was ever made at a thorough canvass, though his work was done in a violent style, particularly in the male and female lines.

As the organ-in-chief of a party which over its history is having made a record in Canada for the untried stands of political opposition the Standard's appearance on the horizon decade of the infant existence of the new party claims is not less now than usual, or had any more ridiculous than novel. All that it lay within the power of an unscrupulous crew to utilize for the personal discrediting of the members of a government and the public mind in the cause of weapons against the Standard is done. When the supporters of the administration presume to exercise their rights in protesting the election of a man who has been so consistently waged. Its disreputable warfare is seen in a sudden withdrawal of the Standard's supporters from the campaign of its leader or the campaign practice of the Standard's supporters.

Only suggestive in the very sudden withdrawal of the Standard's supporters is the fact that the Standard's supporters have accompanied Mr. Hart to the legislature of the Canadian Pacific Railway in the interests of the members of the Standard. We have surmised as much from the case on record and would rather suggest to the Standard's supporters the advisability of giving up serious efforts on the part of this "hard work" which will be in the service along the "hard" and "soft" lines" in the real estate institutions engaged in this work, as to the means one uses to get the general manager of an electric railway to do what he does not want to do. It is a question of interest beyond the constituency of the Standard, and it is a question of interest to the Standard in the Canadian Pacific Railways. There were several districts in Alberta along the main and branch lines of the Canadian Pacific in which "hard work" was done on behalf of the Opposition candidates—in two instances successfully. The Saskatchewan Liberal may find a similarity in the "hard work" done on behalf of Mr. Hart in South Qu'Appelle and Hart on behalf of his friends in Alberta.

GOVERNMENT CONTROL OF TELEPHONES

Hon. Mr. Edmundson a few days ago introduced a bill into the Legislature to amend the Railway Act passed in 1898. Changes were made in several clauses referring to the railways, but the most important addition were those which make provision for regulating the telephone business in the territory under the supervision and control of the Railway Commission.

Among the important changes brought by the legislation was the creation of the "exclusive arrangement" by which the Government is given power to place instruments in the property of the company, the complete control of telephone rates and interchange of traffic between systems. These provisions cover the majority of the franchises usually complained of by the public in connection with the telephone services. The first of these proposed in proposed to accomplish a purpose that in fixing the compensation to be paid by a telephone company for serving a particular community, shall be given to any company whose railway company gives exclusive privileges with respect to its access to any other telephone company.

The control of rates is secured by making it necessary for telephone companies to submit schedules of rates to the Railway Commission for approval. If rates are unreasonable the commission may decline to approve them and the legislature is empowered to improve the company has no legal right to collect any rates. The commission is given the power to compel a company to connect its system for the purposes of communication with any other system, the owners of which desire such connection, provided the system of the telephone is equal to the standard of the other system.

This legislation extends to the telephone systems of the country the principle of Government control over private ownership which was successful embodied in the act of 1901 with regard to the railway systems and which is given effect by the commission appointed under that act. The purpose of the present legislation is to bring the telephone systems under as close control by the commission as that given by the former act over the railways. That the control over the railways has been effective and has worked well in the general scheme of affairs of the railways and the public in contrast to Sir Thomas Shaughnessy and by Mr. Hart, both of whom have been settled on behalf of the public. So satisfactory have been these results that as leader of the Opposition he assured the Government of his reliance upon securing the Railway Act as to take care of telephone companies equally satisfactorily. There is no reason to suppose that the operation of the provisions of the act will be found satisfactory and generally beneficial in connection with the telephone in connection with the railways.

AN "EXPLANATION"

Some time since the Calgary Herald published a dispatch to the effect that dissatisfaction had been caused in Edmonton by the decision of the local banks to refuse to loan money on the security of real estate. The Bulletin investigated the matter and pointed out that it was contrary to the legal regulations of banking institutions to lend money on such security and that the Edmonton banks had continuously observed the legal limitation. Under the circumstances it appeared exceedingly improbable that a representative of the Herald had learned on reliable authority that the banks had suddenly concluded to stop doing what they had not done and that consternation reigned in consequence. The Herald rises to defend itself in the matter with a half column of professed assurance of good faith and honorable intent, accompanied by an "explanation" which plausibly evades the point by politely bowing the responsibility on the Winnipeg correspondent of that paper. The Herald says in part:

"This directly challenged the Herald's good faith, and the Whinfield reporter has now given us the source of his information. He replied: "Alfred Allayne Jones, an Edmonton financial broker, interviewed by our reporter." By the next mail came a clipping from the Free Press showing the interview on which the press dispatch was based. We herewith produce the extract alluding to the influence of salutes:

"The chartered banks are reported to have shut down on further advances for speculative investment in Edmonton," was said.

"Well, that may be so, or it may not," said Mr. Jones. "I have just returned from a visit to the east, and am out of touch with the last two weeks as to the financial situation in Edmonton. I can only say that the actions of the chartered banks themselves when branches are mentioned, and that they are creating a boom in Edmonton real estate at almost anything else within the last year. The banks have been tumbling over each other to get into Edmonton, recognizing the great future of the place and the bright prospects for business branches. Those some of them were desirous of good business sites for their respective branches on the best street, and they were not restrained in their eagerness by a matter of fifty or a hundred dollars a foot in the prime parts."

"The chartered and state conservative banking institutions, become the ruling powers in their neighborhood, and thus they affected the whole real estate situation in Edmonton. Now it is reported that the situation which they themselves created is being transformed by them."

The published interview does not strictly bear out the report sent to the Herald, but by implication the construction placed upon it would not be wholly unfair. However, the herald mentions the circumstances in his interview with extended to anyone sufficiently interested in the subject, to inquire at the local commercial office of the C. P. R. telephone company, or at the Winnipeg office, the copy of the magazine received originally by the Herald. Edmonton has been guilty of an injury it has been doing unintentionally as far as the Herald is concerned, and the implication of bad faith on the part of this paper is not justified by the facts."

A few points which the Herald discreetly avoids are: That the dispatch in question was dated "Edmonton," not Winnipeg; that according to the "explanation" the suggestion that the Edmonton banks had taken the alleged action came from the representative of the paper; that the dispatch purported to be a direct pronouncement of fact, not an expression of opinion or an admission of a possibility; that the Herald declined or neglected to give the correct statement of the situation the publicity it gave to the error, and that that journal has not yet admitted that its article has not yet admitted that Calgary banks did not, do not and cannot legally loan money on real estate security.

THE RAJAH OF PAZALA

Robertson's Hall was crowded again yesterday, when the Juvenile Bostonians, the girls' cell chorus, were entertained. The Edmondo public was pleased a week, previous to the concert. The Rajah of Pazala, although lacking the beautiful vocal qualities of the soloists, was above average and everything was delightful.

Theodore of the company, Babe Marion chess with unusual brilliancy, the role of Babu, Chinko boy, and his son were enjoyed again and again.

The little four-year-old, Halcyan, Martin, brought down the house with her solo, "Little Miss Nobody from Nowhere," and young Allen, McNaught, the only boy in the bunch, made a hit in the role of "Kang Gothic."

Dora Polper, as the Larkins' Thair, kept the audience in laughter for the evening. She was an actress worth all. All the others acquitted themselves with great cleverness. To-night the company present the comic, "Gee Whiz," and tomorrow afternoon and evening will repeat the popular opera "The Gypsy Girl."

NEW HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

Changes Made to Prevent "Blanket Applications" and Preserve the Land for the Settler.

New homestead regulations
The following regulations regarding homesteading have been adopted by the Department of the Interior.

An application for homestead entry or inspection will only be accepted if made in person by the applicant at the office of the local agent or sub-agent.

An application for a homestead entry or inspection made personally at any sub-agent's office may be wired to the local agent by the sub-agent at the expense of the applicant, and if the land applied for is vacant upon receipt of the telegram, such application is to have priority and the land will be held until the necessary papers to complete the transaction are received by mail.

"Should it be found that a homestead entry has been cancel through 'Inspection,' or an application for inspection filed by a person who represented himself as someone else, the entry will be summarily cancelled and such applicant will forfeit all priority of claim."

"An applicant for inspection must be eligible for homestead entry. Only one applicant for inspection may be received from an individual until that application has been disposed of."

"The department may carry on to completion any cancellation proceedings instituted, although the applicant should subsequently withdraw or become ineligible for entry."

"When a homestead entry is cancelled for any cause (except when an applicant for cancellation becomes entitled to entry) notice therefore is to be at once posted in the local agent's office and sub-agent's office within which the land is situated, with the day and hour of posting, and will be open for entry by the first eligible applicant at counter after the posting of said notice."

"An agent, sub-agent or other official giving information about land, so as to give anyone an undue advantage prior to the posting of such notice will be summarily dismissed."

"A homesteader whose entry is in good standing may relinquish the same in favor of a father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister, if eligible on filing the usual declaration of abandonment, subject to the approval of the department. If the entry is liable to cancellation no privilege of transfer will be extended and in no case will a transfer to others than the relatives above mentioned be permitted."

"If any entry be summarily cancelled or voluntarily abandoned by the homesteader, subject to the institution of cancellation proceedings, the applicant for inspection will be entitled to prior right of entry."

"Applicants for inspection must state in what particulars the homesteader is in default; and if in default, and if subsequently that statement is found to be incorrect in material particulars, the applicant will lose any prior right to re-enter he might otherwise have had, should the land become vacant, or if any entry has been granted, it may be summarily cancelled."

The foregoing rulings are to take effect on April 17, and supersede those previously issued, but will not interfere with rights any person may have already acquired officially under the old practice prior to the receipt of the new regulations by the agents.

In this connection the Regina Leader publishes the following interview with R. E. A. Leach, Inspector of Dominion Land offices who recently visited that city:

"What is the object of your visit to Regina at the present time Mr. Leach?" inquired the Leader.

"My visit to Regina is to more fully organize a campaign of clearing up and cancelling blanket homesteads."

"What do you mean, Mr. Leach, by 'blanket homesteads'?"

"Homesteads which have been entered for chiefly by land dealers in the name of real or imaginary persons," replied Mr. Leach, "to be held out as an inducement to purchase adjoining land owned or held by them."

"Has there been much of this 'blanketing'?"

"It is perhaps not nearly so general as the public have been led to believe," answered Mr. Leach, "yet there is no question but that there has been considerable of it done. By a provision of the law in England Act as an Englishman trader at a distance might authorize someone to make a homestead entry for him and he could at his convenience within six months come to the country and go into residence on the land. This was a very great convenience for parties desiring to locate in the same district. A friend could come to the country and make selection for a number who could later come together in a party and settle together. For the last year or two, however, the privileges has been abused by land manipulators as indicated above."

Could you outline the modus operandi by which these manipulators carry out their scheme?"

"Well, for the purpose of illustrating the law we may say that a man named John

A. Michaud, D. L. S., paid our village a flying visit last week.

Fred Sache and John Stewart well known Strathcona citizens, arrived on Sunday evening, having made the trip from Edmonton in one day.

Last week an unusual number of land-seekers went over the trail to the west. They are being guided and located by L. C. Ward our land guide. Some mineral prospectors are working in the fine samples of coal which they say they discovered in the Lotsback and claim it is to be found there in large quantities. The Pembina river is also rich in coal.

The new hotel is about ready for occupation. It is a large building, well built and will accommodate many passengers. The proprietor, however, says it is far too small for the constantly increasing trade and contemplates a large addition to it in the near future. Many of Edmonton's citizens speak of spending a part of the coming summer on the beautiful shores of Lac Ste Anne.

H. D. Jock arrived last week from the Big Eddy after having moved forty tons of G. T. P. supplies to the trail by sleighs. He is now preparing to return to Prairie Creek in the Jasper Valley by means of pack ponies and expects to be several months at the works.

The Lac Ste Anne football team has reorganized. Last year it played many games with local teams and never defeated, one of these games being the draw with the Indians. It now claims the championship of Northern Alberta and is prepared to defend the honor on the grounds here against all comers.

It is expected that a match with the latter team will be arranged to take place here on Victoria day, May 24.

Yours truly,

LOVELL E. SQUIRE,
Secretary.

MANY CANADIANS WILL RETURN

Montreal, Apr. 6—Dugan M. Sturz, vice-president and general manager of the Sovereign Bank, who has returned from the New England States says that Canadians there are eagerly making arrangements to come back to Canada. There are thousands of Canadians in the New England States, said Mr. Sturz, "who have never taken out citizen's papers and are now turning having found that Canada affords better prospects than the States because they feel that the same amount of work and energy expended in Canada will be attended by greater results during the next few years."

"Will these cancellations be referred to Ottawa, and will the former entries be given back to us which fit into a definite category?"

"No, the agent is authorized to cancel the lands immediately upon receiving the report of the homestead inspectors."

"You state that this campaign will be carried on in the Regina district. Will it not be proceeded with elsewhere?"

"Yes, it will be simultaneously prosecuted in other districts but the Regina district will receive special attention as with that district the most glaring instances of this blacklisting have been found."

"Arrangements have been made," continued Mr. Leach, "to make the cub agent more useful to the settlers by giving them definite districts within which they will keep up-to-date records and be able to advise the public of land which are available for homesteading. In this way the public will be enabled to get the best land off the market."

THE LEGISLATURE

Yesterday was a quiet day at the Legislature, in fact, the quietest, so far, of the whole session. The legislators evidently fore saw a dull time of it, and when the speaker took the chair a few minutes past three only half of the chairs were filled.

The House went into committee of the whole for the consideration of four bills which were amended and passed on to their second reading. No objections or comments on the bills were made, save when the committee was considering Hon. Mr. Cross' "Respecting the transfer and descent of land in the Province." The member for Rosebud, who had been listening in a perplexed manner to the reading of the amendment by Deputy Speaker Boyle, finally rose and put the question, "May I ask who made the amendments to this Bill?"

Hon. Mr. Cross stated that he had moved the amendments at the last meeting of the committee.

Mr. Heberl—"I do not remember the amendment being moved, but the honorable member for Edmonton says so, then it must be so. We cannot enter into a discussion of the amendments or understand them if we have not a copy of them before us."

Mr. Cross—"I would explain to the honorable member for Rosebud that the amendments to this Bill are entirely mine. We were merely inserting an Interpretation clause from the Land Titles Act, and it is purely formal."

Mr. Robertson rose to remark that the members on the south side of the House never knew what the members on the north side were discussing.

Mr. Cross—"I do not consider your understanding it without copies as outside the members of the bar the majority of the members of the House do not understand the amendments anyway."

Mr. Heberl—"I knew we would not understand them, and that is the reason I wanted the honourable member to explain them."

Mr. Cross—"If the member for Rosebud wished to read the amendments he would have them over; if not, he moved that the committee rise and report the bill amended."

Mr. Heberl said it was not that he wanted to oppose the passing of the bill. The explanation given by Mr. Cross was entirely satisfactory.

The bill passed its second reading and the third reading was set down for Tuesday.

Bill No. 10, a bill respecting Clerks and Deputy Clerks, clause 24, which had been omitted, was inserted, the bill read a second time and the third reading set for Tuesday.

Bill No. 11 of Bill 7, a Bill respecting Police Magistrates and Justices of the Peace, was amended, the bill read a second time, and the third reading set for Tuesday.

Bill No. 13, "A Bill respecting an Act to amend Ch. 24 of the Ordinances of the Northwest Territories, 1903, entitled 'An Ordinance respecting Local Improvement Districts,'" received some amendments and was read a second time and the third reading fixed for Tuesday.

Mr. Stuart presented a petition asking for a Pacific Elevator Co.

Mr. Cross presented a petition signed by John A. McDougall, Alex. Buchart and others, asking for an amendment to Ch. 48 of the ordinance respecting the Edmonton Public Hospital.

Mr. Stuart on behalf of the Standing Committee reported that the bill incorporating the Wawanesa Insurance Co. had not fully complied with rules 52 and 66, and asked that these rules be suspended to allow the introduction of the bill. The bill was again introduced and read a first time.

Mr. Stuart also reported that the bill incorporating the Occidental Fire Insurance Co. had not complied with the rules. The rules were suspended and the bill introduced again and read a first time.

Premier Rutherford brought forward a copy of the address to be presented to Prince Arthur of Connaught, and moved that the address be presented to the Prince by Speaker Fisher on behalf of the members of the Legislature. In making the motion Mr. Rutherford outlined the programme of the visit of Prince Arthur. A standing vote was taken on the motion, which carried without a division.

A. J. Robertson gave notice that on Monday he would ask the Government the following questions:

1st. What amount of money was to the credit of the Province on April 2nd, 1906, out of the money received from Ottawa?

2nd. Have the Government borrowed any money?

3rd. If so, how much, from whom, what was the interest paid, and by what authority?

Mr. Boyle introduced a bill to regulate the speed and distance of vehicles on highways, which was read a first time, and the second reading fixed for next Thursday.

Premier Rutherford moved that the House adjourn till Monday afternoon at four o'clock. The House adjourned.

Asked for Bonus for Machine Shop

for the council, the mayor said that there was no doubt that the city needed a first class foundry and machine shop.

He was in a position personally to know that there was a want for a concern of that kind here that could handle any class of work. If the city could offer sufficient encouragement to such an institution as to induce it to locate in the city without at the same time crowding smaller institutions already established out of business, it was to the city to do so.

Ald. Lee—"If we give special privileges to this company would we receive the same privileges to a local company or to any other company?"
